

Global Studies

A member of the International Institute
At the University of Wisconsin-Madison

EDUCATION

Professor Amy Stambach, Director of Global Studies

Global Studies Objectives

- Sustain and expand innovative international research and training through interdisciplinary research circles (RCs) and other initiatives.
- Support and strengthen undergraduate major with 4 global studies concentrations.
- Enhance graduate coursework across campus through doctoral training and dissertator workshops.
- Provide training in languages of strategic importance to national and global security.
- Support international internships and study programs that enhance student awareness of global processes.
- Integrate global studies curricula into K-12 teacher training.
- Deliver outreach programming to state, regional, and national institutions and publics.
- Develop campus resources and library collections on global themes.

- ⊕ Home
- ⊖ About
  - Contact Us
  - At A Glance
  - Dean's Biography
  - Dean's Staff
  - Our Partners
  - Advisory Board
- ⊕ Awards
- ⊕ News & Events
- ⊕ Research Opportunities
- ⊕ Global Centers
- ⊕ Special Initiatives
- ⊕ The International Institute
- ⊕ Student Opportunities
- ⊕ Study Abroad
- ⊕ Languages
- ⊕ Outreach
- ⊕ Publications

Selected Research Circles and Initiatives - past and present

Circles / Initiatives	Themes
BRICs workshop: Emerging Powers in the Global System	Rising influence of China, India, Brazil, Russia in a multi-polar world
Environment and Development	Interaction of Earth's complex environmental and human systems; resource sustainability
Human Rights Initiative	Legal advocacy and human rights; environmentalism; humanitarian relief
Gender and International Policy Research	Comparative study of gender policy and training in the U.S. and EU (EU-Atlantis grant)
Global Governance, Shifting Sovereignties	The changing landscape of political legitimacy; nations-state/global dynamics
World Literature/s	Study and documentation of literatures pertaining to migration and transnationalism

IS 601 : Topics in Global Security

Introduction to Global Studies: Themes, Theories, and Methods

Professor Amy Stambach

It is commonly observed that the world operates as a global system, stitched together by far-reaching trade protocols, governance covenants, and communication networks....From education to culture to economy to environment, the great issues of our time require close attention to the dynamic interactions among actors and stakeholders around the world....

Jan. 26: Introduction	March 23: Education Policy
Feb. 2: History	March 30: Culture
Feb. 9: International Economy	April 6: Health
Feb. 16: Global Capitalism	April 13: Environment
Feb. 23: Law and Politics	April 20: Food Security
March 2: Human Rights and Citizenship	April 27: Media
March 9: Civil Society	May 4: Migration

Training in International Policy Research

“My dissertation examines the implementation of UN gender mainstreaming policies in Vietnamese national programs.

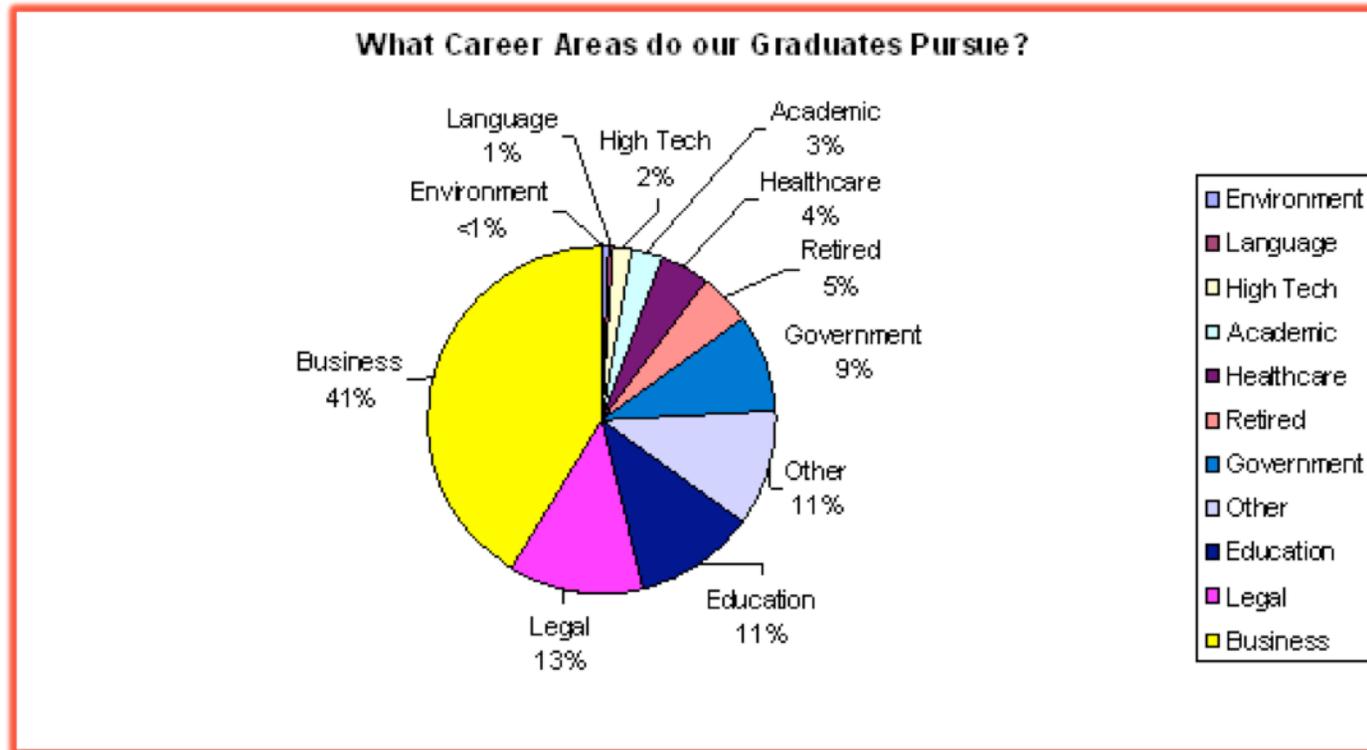

“Global Studies’ administration of the Gender and International Policy Research Circle provides invaluable support in providing opportunities for me to work with faculty and other graduate researchers at UW-Madison and at partner institutions, including at Northeastern University, Humboldt University, and Universidad Comptense de Madrid.”

-- Kristy Kelly, Ed. Policy Studies

The International Studies Major at UW-Madison

OPTION I: Global Security

OPTION II: International Political Economy & Policy Studies (Global Economy)

OPTION III: Cultures in the Age of Globalization (Global Cultures)

OPTION IV: International Relations & the Environment: Managing the Global Commons

June 13 - August 8, 2009 on the campus of the University of Wisconsin-Madison

ARABIC AND PERSIAN IMMERSION PROGRAM 2009

Calendar   Courses   Registration and Payments   Staff   Student Information   APIP Home

2009 Arabic and Persian Immersion Program

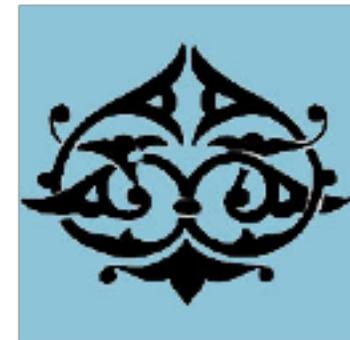

Arabic levels 1 - 3

Persian levels 1 - 3

Contact: apip@global.wisc.edu

"I absolutely loved the Arabic summer program. How could I not? I was speaking Arabic by the 2nd week-and that was without any past experience! The program was packed. We danced, we watched amazing movies, we played a lot, we laughed, we studied, we cooked, we cleaned, we went on trips - we did everything possible in the eight weeks, and all in Arabic.

"In a nutshell, the Arabic summer program changed my life...."

Global Studies Outreach

Providing educators and community leaders with the tools to integrate global content into curricula and community programs

outreach@global.wisc.edu | <http://global.wisc.edu>

K-12 Resources

Professional development & instructional resources through workshops, campus events, statewide conferences & online materials, such as

World Ecosystems Beyond Borders (WEBB): An Environmental Curriculum for WI Students

Higher Education

Scholar Access Grant: Open to WI, IL, IA and MN college instructors to fund visits to Madison to utilize UW resources

Community

Publisher of UW-Madison's most comprehensive weekly listing for international events on and around campus: Global Happenings

INSIDE ISLAM: DIALOGUES AND DEBATES

Challenging Misconceptions, Illuminating Diversity

THE UNIVERSITY
WISCONSIN
MADISON

WISCONSIN
PUBLIC
RADIO

A collaboration of the UW-Madison's National Resource Centers and WPR's Here on Earth: Radio Without Borders

- § A new media initiative that challenges misconceptions about Islam and Muslims in world contexts.
- § Coordinated through Global Studies' Title VI Outreach Staff & other campus centers
- § Funded by SSRC
- § Featuring Jean Feraca

Social Networking and the Gaza Protests, March 2nd, 2009

INSIDE ISLAM: DIALOGUES AND DEBATES

Challenging Misconceptions, Illuminating Diversity

THE UNIVERSITY
WISCONSIN
MADISON

WISCONSIN
PUBLIC
RADIO

A collaboration of the UW-Madison's National Resource Centers and WPR's Here on Earth: Radio Without Borders

Inside Pakistan: Real Lives, Real People. Feb 27th, 2009

Recent & Upcoming Broadcasts

- ~ Islam on Film
- ~ The Call to Prayer: From the Sacred to the Secular
- ~ Women and Sharia
- ~ Young Muslims and New Media
- ~ Heavy Metal Islam
- ~ Islam in Senegal

I look forward with real relish to talking with him next Thursday in our Inside Islam series. He's just what we need to break through the border of Tora Bora, Al-Qaeda, and Benazir Bhutto to get into the heart of the real Pakistan.

Jean Feraca, Wisconsin Public Radio

Stories of the Scott Kloeck-Jenson (SKJ) Fellows

The map below marks a small selection of sites that have been visited by SKJ Fellows over the past few years. Clicking on any particular marker will display information on the Fellow/s who traveled to the selected destination (and automatically close any open bubble). Additional information is available for a few of the sites currently -- try Rio and Maputo -- and more is being added every week.

1. Our work derives from our mission to to connect global, national, and human security issues through our teaching, research and public outreach.
2. We are fortunate to have the strong support of campus Deans and Administrators.
3. We are motivated by our campus' commitment to sustaining and improving research with global reach.

